According to the Law of the Republic of Lithuania on Copyright and Related Rights (1999):

Quote – means a relatively short passage cited from another work to demonstrate or to make more intelligible author's own statements, or to refer to the views or thoughts of another author in authentic wording.

Quotation is the act or habit of quoting from books, plays, poems, articles, etc. It shall be permissible, without the authorisation of the author or any other owner of copyright, to reproduce a relatively short passage of a published work or a work made available to the public, both in the original and translated language, in the form of a quotation in another work, provided that such reproduction is compatible with fair practice and its extent does not exceed that justified by the purpose.

Bibliographical references and list of references should be provided according to rules. Different rules of bibliographical referencing are used worldwide.

Usage of citation styles is selected according to the field of study.

At Kaunas University of Technology it is recommended to use two quotation styles according to the scientific fields:

American Psychological Association (APA) - applied to written works of the study programmes of social sciences, arts and humanities;

ISO 690:2021 – applied to written works of the study programmes of physical sciences, technologies and biomedicine.

Acknowledging and documenting references in written works

ktu

Students should:

- ☐ Follow the guidance of supervisor;
- ☐ Follow the methodological requirements prepared at the Faculty;
- ☐ Prepare the list of bibliography according to APA citation style.

The main reasons for citing

ktu

- ☐ It is important to maintain academic integrity
- ☐ To avoid plagiarism, it is necessary to provide bibliographic references to the cited sources
- ☐ Citing allows the reader of your work to locate cited documents and check the facts or to look into the details of the cited information
- ☐ Failure to cite sources may be considered plagiarism and be penalized
- ☐ All ideas and facts that are obtained from other sources must be properly cited.

Plagiarism – the act of using the work of another or passing it off as one's own or without their consent, by incorporating it into your work without full acknowledgement.

Self-plagiarism refers to the practice of presenting one's own previously published work as though it was new.

Plagiarism - an intolerable academic misconduct

Prevention

- ☐ Usage of special programmes to check for plagiarism TURNITIN (on the Moodle platform).
- ☐ Storing research publications on open access repositories that check for plagiarism automatically.
- ☐ Guidelines for plagiarism prevention in the written works of the students of Kaunas University of Technology, 2022. <https://moodle.ktu.edu/course/view.php?id=3§ion=3&lang=en>

Attention !

Without proper citation your work will be considered plagiarism.

In-text citations + A reference list

Three ways of incorporating other people's ideas

ktu

- Direct quotation
- Paraphrasing
- Summarizing

In-text citations (1) - Direct Quotation

ktu

- Must be identical to the original, using a narrow segment of the source.
- Quoted material should be distinguished from your own words by the use of quotation marks and marked by a reference.
- If quoting a longer excerpt, it should be its own indented paragraph without quotation marks, written in a different font with larger spacing before and after the excerpt.
- If any part of the author's text is omitted in quotation, that place is enclosed in square brackets [...]. Citations should be no longer than 40 words.

It should be noted that frequent use of precise quotations make an impression, that the work's author does not have a clear opinion on the subject matter.

Only use word-by-word quotations when necessary.

Examples:

- Researcher stated, “First, individual differences including socio-demographical variables and personality traits might determine whether individuals use IT” (Maier, 2020, p. 2), and he did offer an explanation as to why.
- Brown (2020) argued that “It should be noted that, while automation of skill management tasks is possible without the definition of universal certification criteria” (p.10).

In-text citations (2) - Paraphrasing

ktu

- It is a restatement of a text or excerpt in your own words.
- It is possible to use synonyms, change the sentence structure, break the information into separate sentences, change the order of the words, replace active with passive, etc.
- The beginning and end of the rephrased ideas have to be identified in the text.

Rewrite an excerpt without changing the meaning of the original text. Every time you paraphrase, it's important to cite the source.

In academic writing, it's usually better to paraphrase instead of quoting, because it shows that you have understood the source and makes your work more original

For example:

- ... Brown (2020) explained how in order to facilitate skills management.
- ... (Brown, 2020).

In-text citations (3) - Summarizing

ktu

- This method is used when the work contains other author's ideas found in several information sources.
- A summary is typically much shorter than the text from where the information is taken. It is short overview, written in your own words.

A statement taken out of context cannot be interpreted arbitrarily. It must retain the meaning given by the author himself.

Two or more works by different authors within the same brackets should be provided alphabetically in the same order in which they appear in the reference list. Citations should be separated with semicolons.

For example:

...about music recordings (Cameron, 2016; Nokelainen and Dedehayir, 2015; Taylor, 2017).

- One work by one author

The author analyzes the quality of music recordings (Chapman, 2017).

- When a work has 2 authors, cite both names every time the reference occurs in text (conjunction “and” is added):

Mogos and Berkers (2018)...or (Mogos and Berkers, 2018).

- If cited a work by 3 or more Authors use the first author's name followed by et al. in the signal phrase or in parentheses:

Alread et al., (2014) argued... (Alread et al., 2014). OR Alread and others, (2014) argued... (Alread and others, 2014).

In the list of references:

Alread, J., Leslie, T., & Whitehead, R. (2014). Design-tech: Building science for architects (2nd ed.). Routledge.

In-text citations (5) – rarer cases

- If a work by the authors with the same surname is cited, the first initial of the first name should be provided:
(P. Janet, 2000); (R. Janet, 2012).
- If several authors with one surname are cited in one reference:
(P. Janet, 2000; R. Janet, 2012).
- Arrange two or more works by the same authors (in the same order) by year of publication. Give the authors' surnames once; for each subsequent work give only the date:
(Brown, 2014, 2016, 2019).

- Identify works by the same author with the same publication date by the suffixes a, b, c, after the year; repeat the year. The suffixes are assigned in the reference list.
(Smith, 2018a, 2018b, 2018c).

In the list of references publication date and suffixes a, b, c after the year are added:

1. Jucevičienė, P. (2009a). The alternative trajectories towards the learning organization. Social sciences = Socialiniai mokslai, 2(64), 26–34.
2. Jucevičienė, P. (2009b). Controversies of quality perception in higher education and their consequences: in quest for the alternative solutions. Social sciences = Socialiniai mokslai, 3(65), 60–65.
3. Jucevičienė, P. (2009c). Organizacijos elgsena:vadovėlis (2-asis papild. leid.). Kaunas: Technologija.

If the organization has a well-known abbreviation, include the abbreviation in brackets the first time the source is cited and then use only the abbreviation in later citations:

- ❑ First citation (American Psychological Association [APA], 2020) Second citation (APA, 2020);
- ❑ First citation (Kaunas University of Technology [KTU], 2019) Second citation (KTU, 2019).

If there is no author, the title should be moved to author's position, the first significant word of the title should be alphabetized in italics:

(Dictionary of psychology, 2013).

Several titles with no author should be alphabetized and separated with semicolon:

(A political and economic dictionary of Eastern Europe, 2007; Dictionary of media and communication studies, 2015).

In a reference list only the secondary source should be indicated :

- ❑ Johnson argued that ... (as cited in Smith, 2003, p. 102);
- ❑ Allport's diary (as cited in Nicholson, 2003).

Attention !

Remember to use secondary sources sparingly, only when there is no access to the original source.

In-text citations (9) – with one look

Type of citation	Citing for the first time (Narrative citation)	Further reference (Further narrative citation)	First citation in brackets (Parenthetical citation)	Further citation in brackets (Further parenthetical citation)
One author	Castillo (2020)	Castillo (2020)	(Castillo, 2020)	(Castillo, 2020)
Two authors	Legard and Asprem (2021)	Legard and Asprem (2021)	(Legard and Asprem, 2021)	(Legard and Asprem, 2021)
3 or more authors	Schmidt et al. (2020)	Schmidt et al. (2020)	(Schmidt et al. 2020)	(Schmidt et al., 2020)
Collective citations	American Psychological Association (APA, 2020)	APA (2020)	(American Psychological Association [APA], 2020)	(APA, 2020)

At the end of each written assignment list of references must be provided.

It should be numbered.

In a list of references, bibliographical records must be provided alphabetically according to author's surnames, if it is absent according to titles of resources. If the title of resources starts with an article (a, an, the, der etc.), it should be provided in the list according to the second word of the title.

Important - in the list of references are included cited resources and all references included in the list of references must be indicated in the text.
